

EU DECLARATION OF CONFORMITY (pursuant to EU Regulation 2025/40 - PPWR)

The undersigned company RICCI EGIDIO & C. SRL declares that the protective packaging and transport systems used for the handling and delivery of its products comply with the sustainability requirements of Regulation (EU) 2025/40 (PPWR) currently in force and applicable as of today, with particular reference to:

- Article 5 (Presence of hazardous substances) : The total concentration of lead, cadmium, mercury and hexavalent chromium is below the legal limit of 100 mg/kg.

We also certify that, in compliance with the national obligations set forth in Legislative Decree No. 116 of September 3, 2020 (National Environmental Labeling), the company has prepared an Environmental Packaging Declaration, which specifies, for each separable element that makes up the packaging, the material identification code and the related collection and recycling methods. This document is freely available for consultation and download on the company website, under "Certifications."

The company declares that the certificate of conformity is directly based on the official declarations of conformity and technical data sheets issued by its direct suppliers of raw materials and packaging materials, which are regularly verified and archived in company systems.

With regard to future sustainability requirements set forth by the same European regulatory framework, the undersigned company formally reserves the right to integrate and update this declaration as soon as the European Commission publishes the relevant delegated acts, implementing acts, and/or harmonized standards defining the standardized formats, technical calculation criteria, and verification methodologies, which have not yet been issued.

This declaration remains available to supervisory authorities and customers for the minimum retention period required by law.
